

Regional Spotlight Webinar: The Transformation and Future of LATAM Infrastructure –
Thursday, 30 June at 9 am (UTC-5)

David Díaz Almazán was appointed CEO of Aleatica in March 2022.

ALEATICA is one of the global leading transportation infrastructure operators, with a presence in 7 countries covering Europe and key markets in Latin America. Headquartered in Madrid, the portfolio consists of 16 toll roads, 2 ports, 1 airport, and 1 light rail asset. The company is owned by IFM.

Prior to joining Aleatica, he was the CFO of X-Elio, a leading global renewable energy developer and operator, owned by KKR and Brookfield.

Between 2013 and 2018 he was the CEO of Arteris, one of the largest Toll Road operators in Brazil. Arteris is a Joint Venture owned by Abertis and Brookfield.

Between 2002 and 2013, he worked at the Abertis Group where he held several key executive positions (Director of Strategy and M&A and Managing Director of America's Toll Roads). Between 1992 and 2001 he worked at "La Caixa" Group.

David has also been a Board Director at several infrastructure companies such as Cellnex (the main infrastructure operator for wireless telecommunication in Europe) or TBI (a global airport operator)

David holds a degree and a master's in business administration and Management by ESADE / Polytechnic University of Catalonia.

www.rubiconcapitaladvisors.com

Dublin | New York | Madrid | Mexico City | Bogotá | Santiago de Chile | Seoul